

Don't Leave a Mess Behind

The “Be Prepared” motto is not just for scouts. We all need to prepare for the time when someone else will take charge of what we leave behind. Do you know who that person will be? Have you prepared clear instructions and left important documents in a safe place? Join us to learn how you can make wise decisions now so that you won’t leave a mess for others to sort out. As Executive Director of the Princeton Senior Resource Center, Susan worked on a wide range of programs and services for seniors. In this presentation, she provides practical information that will help you be better prepared for whatever lies ahead.
